

South Tyneside Young People's Parliament (STYPP)

CLIMATE CHANGE LESSON PLANS

South Tyneside Young People's Parliament's campaign focus for 2020/21 is Climate Change.

As part of our campaign we have developed 8 lesson plans aimed at secondary school students.

The lessons plans cover a broad range of topics from plant-based cooking, to tree planting, to exploring the Greenhouse Effect. Each lesson is designed to be fun, creative, and informative, while building a wider knowledge and understanding of the issues linked to this year's STYPP campaign.

Please use these activities to contribute towards your student's education on the topic of 'Climate Change'. We hope they help to raise awareness around this very important topic.

Jack Johnson, MYP for South Tyneside – "Working with STYPP to produce these lesson plans has given me further insight into this important issue in a fun yet educational way. I hope other young people in South Tyneside enjoy using them as much as we have enjoyed creating them"

Beverly Scanlon, Head of Learning and Early Help - "The Climate Change lesson plans developed by STYPP are a fantastic way to educate students in an engaging and interactive way. They have been designed by young people for young people, so I'm confident they will be enjoyed by all who participate in the activities. Well done STYPP members!"

Special thanks to Groundwork South Tyneside for their input into the development of some of our lesson plans.

Thank you for your support with this important campaign. We hope you and your students enjoy exploring the lesson plans and find them informative and fun.

Signed Jack Johnston, MYP for South Tyneside (on behalf of STYPP)

Johnston

If you would like to know more about this campaign and/or the work of South Tyneside Young People's Parliament contact Laura Johnson email: laura.kate.johnson2@southtyneside.gov.uk or find us on Twitter @ParticipationST and Facebook Participation in South Tyneside

South Tyneside Council

